Congress the prison. d not hesitate to make the telegraph a part of the postal system because of a fear that to do so would be to run the risk of Post-Office Department self-sustaining so far as letters were concerned, although the rates of postage on latters have been reduced again and again. Theoretically a railroad across the continent ought never to have been undertaken; but in point of fact the construction of such a railroad—or rather, several of them—has paid Uncar Sam a handsome profit, not in dividends, but otherwise. We may claim several new States as owing their existence as States to the railroads which run from the Mississippi river to the Pacific Ocean. So street-railroads are found to pay in towns which to the non-hopeful and nonenterprising citizen seemed to hold out to inducements to their construction.

To the Editor of the Dispatch:

In the course of a few years find telegrams flying thick and fast from town to town all over this wide-extended land of ours.

Mr. Hurmann said:

"Dr. Green proyed conclusively, I think, that the telegraph does not meet the wants of the people when he said that only one out of every sixty of our people ever used the telegraph. How can this want be supplied? Reduce the rates, and the business and profits will both be greater. An examination of the telegraphic system will show that a reduction of 50 per cent. in rates has in two years increased the business 100 per cent., and within three years gave greater profits at the reduced rate than at the high rates."

There is always danger of overdoing booms. Inflation of values is wrong, and is always followed by serious depression. Let the "promoters" of our land development companies and new cities pursue a conservative course and everybody will be better off in the end. The wealth is sure to come.—Richmond State.

This is all true and well stated by our contemporary. In some localities in our State we fear there is rather too much boom all at once, and there may be a recoil before it is anticipated. We hope, however, such may not be the case anywhere.—Lynchury Advance.

Richmond, April 13, 1890. Millinery! Millinery

The constant rush of trade in the past two weeks and the number of hats and bonnets sold out of our cases and trimmed to order should be convincing proof that our efforts to make this our banner season in the Millinery business are fully and justly appreciated by the trade. And, by way of apology, we will state for the benefit of our patrons who were compelled to be disappointed on account of the immense number of orders in our work-rooms that we have now put on additional force and can fill all orders promptly and satisfactorily.

in FLOWERS, an exquisite new shipment of which will be opened for your inspection TO-MORROW MORNING. Ribbons! Ribbons!

This week we shall have some exceptional values for you in our UNTRIMMED HAT DEPARTMENT as well as

There is nothing you can ask for in Ribbons that we cannot instantly place before you. Our assortment embraces Shades, Qualities, and Colors that can be found in no other store in the South, and the stock covers a space of 137 feet wide piled three shelves high. Thousands and thousands of pieces of Ribbons can be seen in Velvet, Silk, or Gauze, from one eighth of an inch to the widest Sash-Ribbons. Our display of these was never so complete and our prices are surprisingly low. Societies or organizations needing Ribbons for badges for the Lee Monument unveiling ceremonies should come and see us.

and Cloaks for the can be seen at our establishment in an innumerable number of Sizes, Colors, and Prices, as well as a great many exclusive styles manufactured only for us and which, therefore, you cannot see elsewhere.
